CURRENT ISSUE

Journal of Agromedicine 14(2) is now online, and will be mailed later this month. It contains 29 papers from Sixth International Symposium: Public Health and the Agricultural-Rural Ecosystem, held last October in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. This dedicated issue of the Journal would not have been possible without the professionalism and hard work of an extraordinary group of guest editors. John Gordon, PhD, and his colleagues from the Canadian Centre for Health and Safety in Agriculture (CCHSA) took the lead in manuscript review and met every deadline. We also are indebted to guidance provided by guest editor George Conway, MD, MPH, director of the Agriculture, Forestry, and Fishing Program for the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), which provided conference support for this special Journal issue.

ONLINE

To view abstracts of all papers in Journal of Agromedicine 14(2), go to <http://www.informaworld.com/smpp/title~content=g911141312~db=all?order=page&stem=1#messages>. The abstracts are on two pages. To advance to page 2, look under “Sort by” near the top of the page. Subscribers can access the full articles.

NEXT ISSUE

Journal of Agromedicine 14(3) is scheduled for publication in August.

ASHCA-NIOSH 2010

Planning is underway to publish papers from “Be Safe, Be Profitable: Protecting Workers in Agriculture,” a conference scheduled for January 27-28, 2010 in Dallas/Fort Worth, and co-sponsored by the Agricultural Safety and Health Council of America (ASHCA) and NIOSH. Papers will provide state-of-the-art review of major issues affecting the safety and health of production agriculture workers. For more conference information, go to www.ashca.com.
