Rotation Brief Descriptions

GEN

General Outpatient Dermatology. Typically assigned to work with an outpatient dermatologist, typically seeing patients scheduled with that attending. Experiences the full spectrum of patient care. Completes documentation and proposes charges. Assigned to discuss results, patient disposition, patient communication at the instruction of attending.

ACU

Acute Care Dermatology. Scheduled for same day access appointed patients scheduled within 1 week for acute outpatient care. Responsible for New Inpatient Consults and Subsequent Hospital Care inpatient consult follow-up. Responsible for Urgent and Standard E-consults. Handles the daily on-call pager

SUB

Subspecialty Dermatology. Scheduled for either Pediatric Dermatology, Dermatopathology, or Mohs Micrographic Surgery. In times when assigned to one subspecialty rotation and subspecialty is unable to accommodate, the resident will be reassigned to a different subspecialty experience instead.

PRO

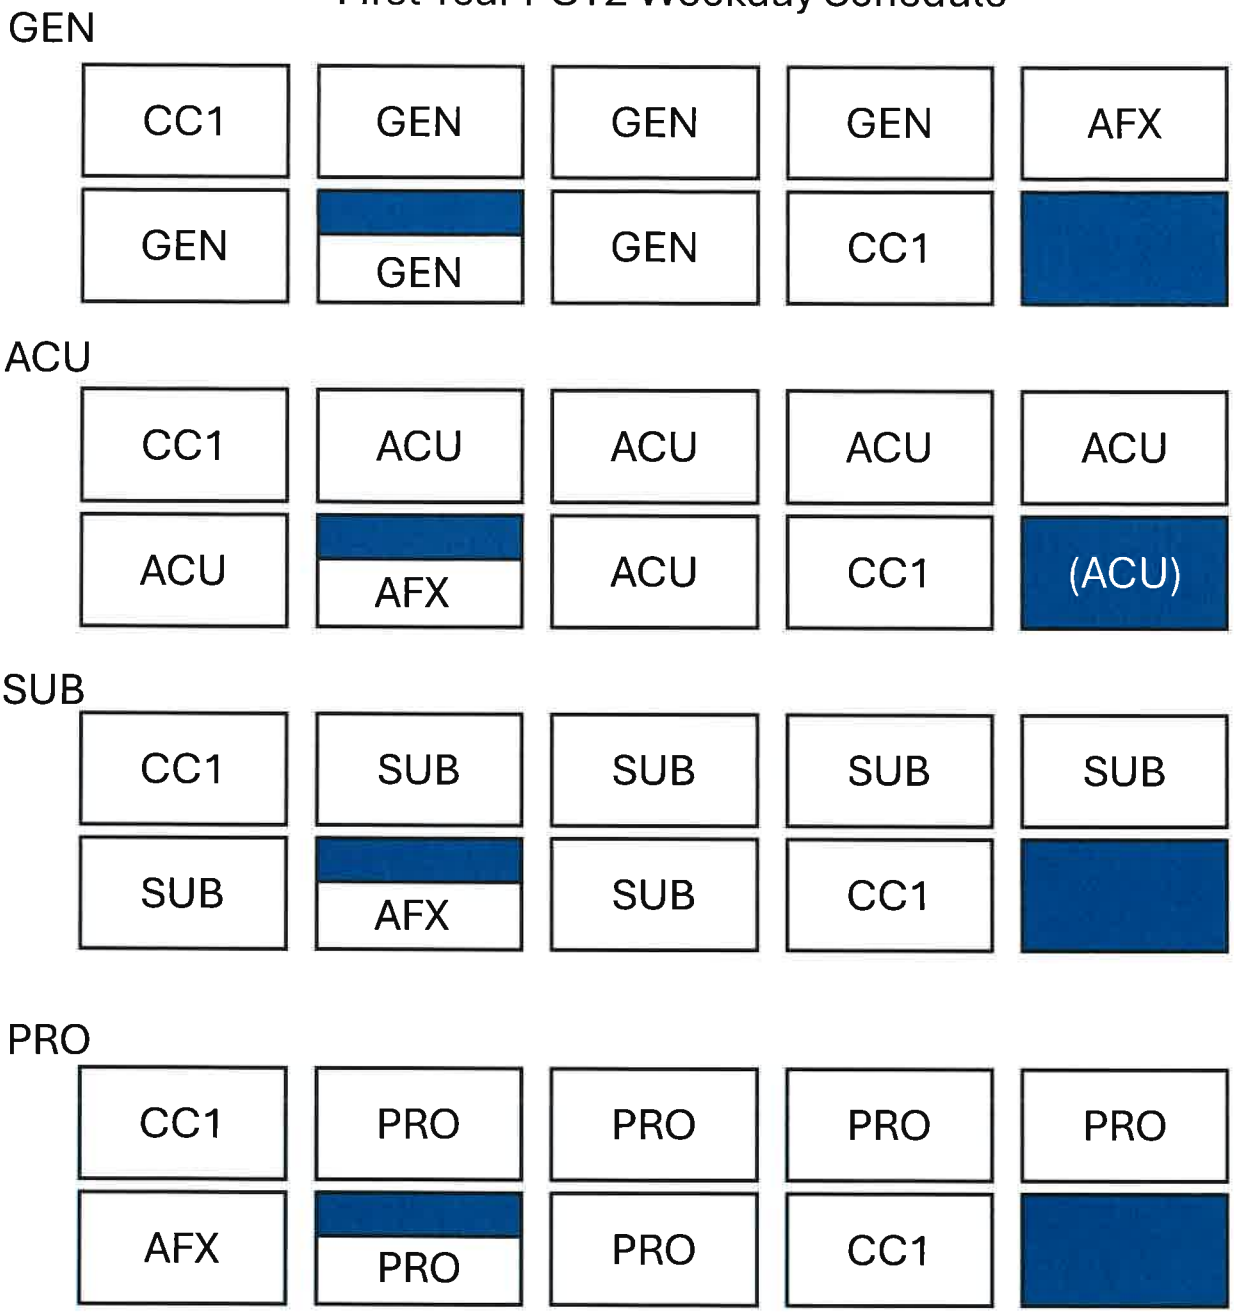

Procedural Dermatology. This resident will be assigned to provide general dermatology procedural care occurring during the week. This may include the full spectrum of procedures. This is not a Mohs Surgery rotation (see Sub) but Mohs surgeries may occur. Second and Third year dermatology residents assigned to PRO rotations will also be responsible to supervise and assist First Year dermatology residents during their continuity clinic assignments.

ELE

Elective month. Residents will receive one month of elective. This may be broken into 2 different experiences but must be proposed well in advance and approved by the Program Director. Research is possible but must include a data-driven research project already approved and with data being collected or analyzed.

Continuity Clinics are incorporated for each resident level for each rotation assignment and are no longer stand-alone rotations.*
