Marshfield Clinic Health System exercises option to purchase land with City of Ladysmith

LADYSMITH – Marshfield Clinic Health System (MCHS) has finalized their due diligence and as of Friday, January 29, 2021 is exercising on the option to purchase land with the City of Ladysmith.

In May 2019, the city entered into an option with MCHS to purchase the former Mount Senario College athletic fields located along the south side of Port Arthur Rd. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the City of Ladysmith granted MCHS an extension on the option to purchase.

“MCHS’s investment in building a new hospital in Rusk County demonstrates the System’s long-term vision and commitment to ensuring access to high-quality health care close to home for our community,” stated Jeff Euclide, Chief Administrative Officer of Marshfield Medical Center- Ladysmith.

In the upcoming months, conversations with the architectural design company who is assisting with the planning of the new medical facility will continue and planning meetings with local staff will resume with a goal of beginning construction in summer 2021.
