

Childcaring

Ten community-based Child Care Resource and Referral (CCR&R) Agencies serve all 72 counties in Wisconsin.

The agencies help parents sort through child care options and provide quality child care information.

CCR&R helps communities, employers, school districts, W-2 agencies and others develop local solutions to complex child care problems.

The CCR&R agencies in Wisconsin refer equally to all family child care and group centers, depending on parent need, preference and availability.

CCR&R serve all families and all regulated child care providers.

“This is a very good service to help people find great daycare!”

“We selected a provider per your referral and are very pleased.”

“You did a great job of helping me.”

“I liked the follow-up call to see how we were doing.”

“Overall experience was excellent.”

Childcaring Commitment:

We realize how demanding and time consuming finding quality care for your child/ren can be. Childcaring will assist you. We will help you find answers to your child care questions and provide guidance on choosing quality care.

Parent Involvement:

Childcaring provides information on available child care programs- NOT recommendations.

- Childcaring provides listings of regulated programs who have met minimum health and safety standards as required by regulatory agencies.
- Child care rates vary, as do quality and perceptions of quality.
- Parents should interview, visit and check references before leaving a child in care.

Childcaring Service:

We will assist parents in their search for child care by:

- Individual assessment of specific child care needs
- Education about child care choices and issues
- Locating child care providers that have openings
- Providing at least three names of child care providers within two working days
- Detailed information about the provider's service (The parent is responsible for calling the providers to schedule interviews)
- Periodic checks until the family is able to find care
